A Boll Rus Yans.—The Cincinnati Enguirer tells the following on a well-known merchant of that city, who was smoog the civilians at the stampeds from Bull Rus:

The aforesald merchant, at the time of the panio, lost his conveyance, and, like some others, fancying that from his political course, he would, if taken, be an especial object of the enemy's wrath, he was mest anxious to obtain a faster conveyance than one pair of legs to carry him on the way to Washington.

Meeting with a man, mounted on a fine, spirited horse, he at once proposed a trade. "I don't want to sell him," said the rider in answer to the proposition, "for I don't want to be taken prisoner any more than yourself." But one hundred dollars in cash, and a superb watch and chain, valued at two hundred and fifty dollars more, was too tempting a bait, and the result was, that in less time than it takes to recount it, our Cincinnation was astraddle of the Rosinante, and galleping away toward Centreville as fast as the naimal could carry him. Arrived there he was stopped by the sentinel, who demanded where he had found that horse. "Found him?" reiterated the merchant, "why, I bought and paid for him, did you, and he with Uncle Sam's brand upon him! Dismount—get off—or I'll take charge of you as well as him."

> Consumption .- How often do we hear the feath of a friend by the hand of this fell destroyer, and when we ask the particulars, the answer often is : "They had a humor, it settled on their lungs and they died." Here then it is admitted that humor was the primary cause of their disease. It is these humors upon which we wish to speak. Kennedy's Medical Discovory has been before the public for some twelve years, and in that time its merits have been boroughly tested ; certificates are daily being received by its Proprietor from all directions, of persons cured of humorous diseases ; now if these persons had suffered these humors to remain in their system, they might ere this have been thrown into a consumption or other fatal malady. Delays are dangerous.

Gen. Lyon Again Victorions—Ben. at McCulloch Befeated—Another Material Beneautarily Expected.

Spanguage, Mo., Aug. 2.—A battle occurred to-day at Dug Spring, 19 miles south of this place, between the Federal forces under Gen. Lyon, and the rebel troops under Ben McCulloch, in which 8 of the former were killed and thirty wounded, and forty of the latter killed, and forty four wounded.

Gen. Lyon took 80 stand of arms and 15 horses and wagoes. Two hundred and seventy U.S. cavalry made a charge upon a body of rebel infantry, said to have been 4,000, and cut their way through them, and returned with a loss of only five men. The charge was most gallant and terrible, several of the rebels being found with their heads cloven entirely through. The enemy retired during the night, and Gen. Lyon took possession of the field.

Another battle was momentarily expected, the enemy being in large force west of Springfield. Particulars soon as possible.
